Chunky Knitted Blanket

Super bulky chenille in garter stitch · needles or arm knitting · Lap 30 × 40 / Throw 40 × 50 in

SKILL LEVEL	SIZES	TOOLS
Beginner	Lap, Throw	15 mm (US 19) needles or arms
YARN	GAUGE	TIME
#7 chenille, 317 / 523 yd	6 sts × 10 rows = 4 in	An afternoon

Materials

- Super bulky (#7) chenille: 317 / 523 yd on needles, 189 / 324 yd by arm (Lap / Throw)
- 15 mm (US 19) 40 in circular needle, or just your arms

Abbreviations (US terms)

k	knit	RS / WS	right side / wrong side
CO / BO	cast on / bind off	ridge	2 rows of garter

Numbers are Lap / Throw. Chenille has no stretch and is heavy: count your stitches every few rows, and work on a table so the blanket's weight doesn't pull the stitches.

Blanket

Cast on	Needles: cast on 45 / 60 sts with the long-tail cast on. Arms: cast on 20 / 27 sts onto your right arm.
Garter	Knit every row (needles). For arm knitting, knit every row too: move the stitches from one arm to the other, knitting each one.
Length	Continue until the blanket has 100 / 124 rows on needles or 44 / 56 rows by arm, ending after a wrong-side row.
Bind off	Bind off loosely knitwise. For arm knitting, bind off by knitting 2, passing the first over the second, and repeating.
Finish	Weave the ends in by threading them through the chenille loops with your fingers for 6 in, then back again. Chenille doesn't need blocking.

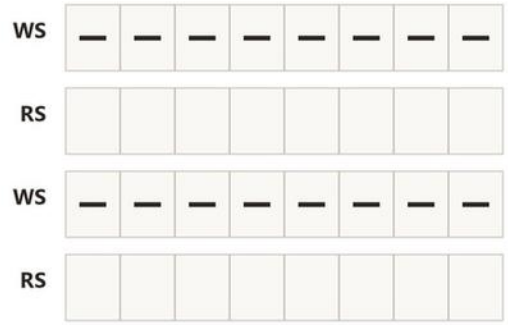
Knit every row. Two rows make one ridge; the fabric lies flat and doesn't curl.



blank = knit on the right side bar = knit on the wrong side (forms a ridge)
